

Adrian Papahagi wrote his MA and PhD in Medieval studies at the Sorbonne (Paris IV). He taught Old English at the Sorbonne, held a doctoral fellowship at Oxford, and was a research fellow at The Warburg Institute-London, and at The New Europe College, Bucharest. He is an associate professor of Old English and Manuscript Studies at the 'Babeş-Bolyai' University of Cluj, where he directs the Centre for Manuscript Studies (CODEX). He also teaches a codicology course for the Fédération Internationale des Instituts d'Études Médiévales (FIDEM) in Rome. His research interests include the early-medieval tradition of Boethius' De consolatione Philosophiae, Old English Alfredian prose, Old English poetry, insular, Carolingian and medieval Transylvanian manuscripts and libraries, and Shakespeare.
